CALLS COVENANT ECONOMIC TRUST AND WAR MENACE

California Senator Declares It cements Unjust Annexations.

SAYS ITS OPPONENTS ARE DISCREDITED BY OFFICIALS

Says America Has Lost Respect of Nations by Negotiations.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Washington, June 2.—Annals of the League of Nations as a combination of "armed powers" in a "great war" trust. Senator Johnson, Republican of California, today told the senate that the Paris conference dared not amend the league covenant so that the declaration of future wars would be decided, not by established rulers, but by a popular vote of the peoples concerned.

"It is not a League of Nations to prevent war," he asserted. "In its very creation it has been stripped of every realistic purpose it ever had. It contains within itself the germs of many wars and worse than that, it rivets, as in the Shantung decision, the chains of tyranny upon millions of people and opens for all time unjust and wicked annexations. It is a great world economic trust wherein a few men, sitting in secret, may control the economic destinies of peoples."

"Instead of coming closer to those most concerned, the men and women for whom government is to be made, the league goes a step farther from them. The representatives of ruling powers sit far away in secret. If those who wrote this document really wanted to prevent war, they would have permitted the men and women to determine by their votes whether or not there should be war."

"The answer is this: It is not a league to promote peace, but to protect power. Those who advocate it do not intend it so that the issue of war shall be made by the men and women who must fight and die for it."

Urging adoption of his resolution asking the state department for the full text of the league treaty, Senator Johnson read into the record the oft quoted utterances of President Wilson regarding "open diplomacy."

"Open covenants openly arrived at," continued the senator, "are now a byword and a joke. Their mention brings but a cynical smile."

"When you remember that England frankly says her treaties are yet in existence, her offensive and defensive alliances with Japan yet controlling and then you observe that the United States making some sort of engagement, the knowledge of which for the present we are denied, you will have some conception of what the League of Nations is intended to do."

The revised covenant, Mr. Johnson continued, far from preserving the Monroe doctrine, would mean its destruction. He declared the league would be a partnership between the world's one great "going concern" and bankrupt nations and charged that government propaganda was discrediting league opponents. By the Paris negotiations, he said the United States has made many powerful enemies.

"It is rare indeed," he asserted, "that any speech is made in favor of the league which does not bitterly condemn Americans who think of their own country first. For the first time in our history the jealous guarding of our own, the love of our traditions and our institutions, the passion for our land and our liberty have become venial sins."

"We have learned in the last two years a new thing in our national life, national propaganda. The propaganda, held for by the people themselves has been devoted to deceiving the people and to glorify those who by a people's (Continued on Page 9, Col 2)

ALLIES TO TAKE NO PART IN NEW RHINE REPUBLIC

Troops Will Hold Aloof From Participation in Movement.

GOBLENZ IS FIXED AS CAPITAL OF REPUBLIC

Movement is Anti-Prussian and Violence Is Condemned.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Paris, June 2.—The allied forces of occupation will take no part in the movement for the establishment of a Rhine republic, the Journal says. The allied powers will observe an attitude of watchful waiting.

Paris, June 2.—Goblenz will be the capital of the new Rhine republic which was proclaimed yesterday in several Rhine cities. The new government and national assembly will meet there but the provisional government will sit at Wiesbaden. Fortified by the proclamation have been telegraphed to the Rhine of Paris from Metz by Maurice Barres. One significant section follows:

"We declare the autonomous Rhineish republic to be founded in the bosom of Germany. It is a great world economic trust wherein a few men, sitting in secret, may control the economic destinies of peoples."

"1. The frontiers will remain the same, including Eifelstein.

"2. Changes in frontiers can be made only with the approval of other nations interested as established by a plebiscite.

"3.—The provisional government of the Rhineish republic is exercised by the undersigned delegates of the peoples of the Rhine. Local authorities will continue to exercise control for his time being. The provisional government will take the place of the central government and the Prussian, Bavarian and Hessian governments. (Signed)

"Rhineish Hessian Nassau Committee, Palatinate Committee."

Another passage shows the movement not to be separatist but anti-Prussian.

"It says: 'Violence from whatever side must disappear. The Rhineish people honestly and sincerely wishes peace by a reconciliation of all peoples. That is why it separates itself from the institutions which are the bases of so many wars, feudalism, and militarism. It eliminates any obstacle standing in the way of a genuine peace.'

"June 1.—The Rhineish national assembly will be held without delay, according to the methods of the German national assembly. Goblenz is to be the capital of the new government and the national assembly will meet there. The provisional government will sit at Wiesbaden. Local authorities will continue to exercise control for his time being. The provisional government will take the place of the central government and the Prussian, Bavarian and Hessian governments. ## AUSTRIAN RACIAL MINORITIES ARE GIVEN PROTECTION

Treaty Also Has Regard For Religious and Linguistic Differences.

DOCUMENT IDENTICAL IN PLACES WITH HUN TREATY

New Republic is Left With Population of Six Millions.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) St. Germain, June 2.—The conditions of peace of the allied and associated powers, with the exception of military, reparations, financial and certain boundary clauses, were handed to the Austrian plenipotentiaries at St. Germain today. Those clauses which are not yet ready for presentation will be delivered as soon as possible, the Austrians in the meantime having the opportunity to hear the views of the great part of the treaty in an effort to facilitate a final decision. The Austrian treaty follows exactly the same outline as the German and in many places is identical with it except for the change in name. Certain specific clauses which applied only to Germany are, of course, omitted and certain new clauses included especially as regards the new states created out of the former Austro-Hungarian empire and the protection of the rights of the minorities and the rights of the religious, linguistic minorities in Austria, Czechoslovakia, Rumania, and the Serbian-Croatian-Slovenian state and to cede other territories which previously in union with her, composed the empire of Austria-Hungary. Its population of over 10,000,000 people.

Austria is left by the treaty a state of from 6,000,000 to 7,000,000 people inhabiting a territory of between 5000 and 600 square miles. She is required to accept the complete independence of Hungary, Czechoslovakia and the Serbian-Croatian-Slovenian state and to cede other territories which previously in union with her, composed the empire of Austria-Hungary. ## URGES SWIMMING AS TONIC FOR NERVES

Merits of swimming as an exercise, and the value of the sport to the individual, are pointed out in a statement issued by the physical department of the Y. M. C. A. Monday. Swimming, the statement declares, is a nerve tonic, it develops courage and self reliance, stimulates a desire for cleanliness and is valued as a life saver. The statement follows:

"In attempting to learn to swim it will take some effort on the part of the beginner. Necessarily it will take time to attend the swimming classes which may interfere with other engagements. Many men will not take advantage of the free swimming lessons at the Y. M. C. A. because they will not put the time into it. The following arguments should induce many men to join the swimming classes and stick to them.

"Saving of Life.—(a) One's own life. There are more fatalities from water sports than from any other. Most of them are due to non-swimmers 'getting in' beyond their depth.

(b) Lives of others. Swimmers were the means of saving many lives in such disasters as those of the Eastland, Slocum, and others on the water. Most of them are due to non-swimmers 'getting in' beyond their depth.

"Exercise.—(a) Nearly all experts in physical training agree that swimming is the very best form of exercise because there is little liability to strain and the entire body is involved.

(b) It is one of the very best forms of exercise for the development of organic power (heart and lung power) the lack of which we are now seeing so plainly in the shortening of life after 40 years.

CATHOLIC CHURCHES CONFIRM BIG CLASSES

Rt. Rev. Joseph J. Hartley, bishop of the Columbus diocese spent Sunday in Newark and administered the sacrament of Confirmation to one of the largest classes to be confirmed in Newark.

Confirmation services were held at St. Francis de Sales church immediately following the 10:30 o'clock mass. The sermon at the mass was delivered by Bishop Hartley, who enumerated the principles of the church, and what they meant to the members of the Catholic church.

"This season of the church's calendar with the feast of the Ascension just past and the feast of Pentecost approaching means much to church. The people should pay to the Holy Ghost for the guidance that Christ promised when he said, 'I will be with you all days'."

Rev. Father Schroeder celebrated the mass, and following an examination of the class on the articles of faith, and their knowledge of the prayers, Bishop Hartley administered the sacrament. The altar was massed with roses and reds, and many candles were used.

The class was unusually large, there being 276 boys and girls, and 26 converts to receive the sacrament.

In the afternoon at 3 o'clock Bishop Hartley visited the church of the Blessed Sacrament in East Main street. The church was beautifully decorated in garden flowers for the impressive service. The bishop again conducted the examination of the class and delivered a sermon with what was meant by confirmation, "that it makes you a soldier of Christ."

The class numbered 128 with 15 converts. At the early mass a class of 32 received their first Communion.

GRANVILLE

(Special to The Advocate.)

Granville, June 2.—A most impressive memorial service was held in the Methodist church, Sunday morning, for Clark P. Kelley, who lost his life in the service. The special music consisted of an anthem by the choir, a duet by Mrs. R. E. Crawford and T. E. Jones, and a hymn by the congregation, all favoring the deceased. Mrs. Kelley, who was Mr. Kelley's Sunday school teacher, emphasized his personal life, his religious influences, and his devotion to the work of the church. Dr. H. D. Fish of Denison university presented the paper of his life as a student and being affected by the college, always to do his best and everywhere to serve his fellow men. Kelley had been the ruling principle of his college days. His great preparation was to have taken a then legal course and to have served his generation as a minister. Mrs. J. S. Graham, president of the Granville war mothers' association, eloquently and touching, from the viewpoint of a mother, her son's service and his death, and his coming home to his family.

At the request of the Thursday League of the Methodist church, and fitting tribute to the memory of Mr. Kelley, the Granville high school students of 1918, who were the first to receive their diplomas, made a presentation of a book to the church. The book was a copy of "The Story of the World," a book which is a valuable addition to the library of the church.

Rev. Theodore J. Jones, who is the pastor of the church, presided over the service. The service was held in the church of the Methodist church, and was a most impressive one.

A LIBERAL OFFER BY LICKING CREAMERY COMPANY

To the Users of Milk and Cream From Its Retail Wagon.

The Licking Creamery Company begs to announce that until further notice it will make a regular monthly award of two (2) $1.00 sheets of milk tickets upon each of its retail milk wagon routes to private consumers of milk and cream throughout the city.

The awards will be made on the 15th day of each month.

A duplicate receipt stub from every sheet of tickets sold during the preceding month will be placed in a box from which the stubs to receive awards will be drawn by a disinterested party. Each route will be handled separately.

THERE IS BUT ONE CONDITION QUALIFYING THESE AWARDS. All competitors must have their accounts with the Licking Creamery Company paid in full for the month preceding the one in which any given drawing occurs.

In other words, should a duplicate of one of your ticket receipt stubs be drawn on the 15th of one month it would not receive an award unless your account was paid in full for the month preceding.

This is absolutely the only requirement, thereby characterizing this proposition as being extremely clean and liberal.

We hope it will please the public to watch for the next drawing. Your name may be among the fortunate ones to be announced in the papers following the next drawing.

No Need To Give Up Smoking To Be Rid Of Fox-Trot Nerves

Kinda ease off on the heavy 'Bac. Try the Honey Moon Cure

"The modern school of doctors are sensible kind of human. They don't tell the other day. They take a little brain with their prescriptions and give the dope the go-by altogether. Now 'cause I've been there, smoked for forty years. Always wanted the big, black, mature smokers. They couldn't come strong enough for me. Outfit—well, all my nerves got to hopping about like corn kernels in a popper. The doctor for you and the wife. And the doctor never even hesitated. 'Just smoke Honey Moon. That's right, smoke and a 'Bac' smoke. It will ease your nerves back to where they ought to be.'"

"And I've found it just one good smoke after another—just one good smoke after another—just one good smoke after another. It's sweet and mild—aged in casks like old wine. The minute you touch a match to it you know it's the real thing. And so satisfying—down to the last puff. Nature never produced a milder smoke. Man never blended a more 'tasteful' tobacco."

"Yes, sir, I recommend Honey Moon," continued the tobaccoist. "I recommend it because I know it's good. I know what it's made of. Harley to my mind makes the ideal smoke. Honey Moon is 3-year-aged Harley, and it's prepared and packed in a clean, sun-dried factory by expert Union labor. The concern that makes it is just as square as the tobacco is good. They guarantee it. And if you're not satisfied return it to the dealer and get your money back."

"Try Honey Moon. The most conservative of men will try anything once. But Honey Moon will test on any man. And if it doesn't tickle your smoke-palate better than any smoke-food you ever set fire to bring it back on the man, and I'll hand you over your 10c—that's all Honey Moon costs. The most satisfying smoke-value 10c ever brought."

JUSTICE

For the Foster-Parents of Our Children

IT IS STRANGE that the generous-hearted American people, who poured out their riches so prodigally in response to every patriotic, every charitable appeal, and who accorded such enthusiastic and liberal support to every measure and to every group that helped win the war, should have neglected to properly encourage and reward the services of one of the noblest professions in the field of human activities—a profession that in lofty ideals, in unselfish principles, in sacred responsibilities, stands side by side with the ministry of the Gospel itself.

We wish to bespeak, with whatever power and authority we may have and with such words as may be granted to us, some measure of consideration for the foster-fathers and mothers of our children—the school teachers of the United States of America.

There is no class of workers of whom we demand so much. We commit into their keeping the minds, the bodies, and the very souls of our children in the tender and formative years of their lives, and they receiving these children, can indeed be said to hold in the hollow of their hands the future of America. We expect these devoted men and women to watch over to care for our sons and daughters as though they were their very own, to drill them in the arts and sciences to train them for business and for citizenship, to instruct them in manners and in morals, to do for them those things which we would do had we the training and the leisure.

No class has assumed so heavy, so trying a burden and a responsibility with such willingness as these consecrated men and women. No class has performed its increasingly heavy tasks more devotedly, more conscientiously, and with less thought of self. No class served its country more wholeheartedly, more loyally, during the trying and tempestuous times of war, day by day pursuing its round of duty, day by day helping the young people, and through the children the parents, to see the struggle in its true light, thus securing the cooperation of the community in every measure undertaken by the government to win the war.

Truly they have made the nation their everlasting debtor. Truly had they not done their work so well this republic would not outlast the span of a generation.

What then have the teachers received at our hands in return? They have received little of honor and somewhat less of pay. Other classes have prospered; other classes through powerful organizations have secured generous wages. The teachers have no spokesman, however, to demand even the simple justice of a living wage, so to them we give their petty pre-war pittance, so meager, so pitifully inadequate, that it places a burning brand of shame and disgrace upon this nation.

The men and women who are making the Americans of tomorrow are being treated with less consideration than the janitors who sweep out the buildings in which they are employed: they are earning, on the average, less than the wages given to the scrubwomen employed in the public buildings of the United States Government. Normal-school graduates receive less salary than street-sweepers; high school principals and superintendents less than section foremen; country school-teachers less for instructing the farmer's children than he pays his hired man to feed his hogs.

In a certain town of Illinois, for instance, the average wage of fifteen miners for one month was $217, while the average monthly salary of fifteen teachers in the same town was $55. In another town a miner, who, by the way was an enemy alien, drew more than $2,700 last year, while the salary of the high-school principal in the same town was $765. We welcome with all our hearts the long-belated recognition that is being given to the Man who works with his hands. We believe that this same workingman will be the first to join with us in asking better pay for those who teach his children.

No wonder there are fifty thousand vacancies in the teaching forces of the schools. No wonder the ranks are being filled with weak men and with immature women who merely use the profession as a stepping-stone to something better. No wonder there are thirty thousand teachers in the United States who have had no schooling beyond the eighth grammar grade. Small wonder indeed, that seven million of our school-children are being trained by teachers, mere boys and girls themselves, who have had no professional education whatever.

When we consider that the 740,000 teachers of America are paid an average salary of $630 a year; when, moreover, we consider the fact that living costs have actually advanced 103 per cent. since the beginning of the war, thereby cutting the buying-power of those insignificant salaries in half, we can easily determine that only a fool or a martyr would choose teaching as a profession, or would long remain in it unless these terrible conditions were swiftly remedied.

What a crime is this! What an indictment! What an unpardonable sin at the doors of an enlightened people who now find them selves at the head and forefront of the democracies of the world! How can we better prepare for the great undertakings of reconstruction than by setting ourselves immediately to remedying this perilous condition? In these trying and chaotic times when the world is beset by unrest, by anarchy, by revolution, by the devil's brood of appalling evils that follow in the train of war, we must make sure that the foundations of our republic are set on a rock that it may stand against the flood.

The peace and security of the world of the future will be in the safekeeping of the generation now in our schools. These boys and girls must weave up "the raveled sleeve" of civilization. Their hands must minister to the wounds of the nations. Their minds must meet and solve the difficult and crucial problems that will be their inheritance. Their hearts must be so imbued with the horrors of war and with the poverty and anguish that inevitably follow in its wake that they in their time will enter upon it only as a last resort in national self-defense or in support of some great principle of humanity.

Never has there been a more urgent need for high-minded, great-hearted, splendidly trained, 100 per cent. American instructors to drive home the vital lessons that these times hold. Never has the future of the nation been so clearly committed into the hands of the teachers. And yet thousands of men and women of ability who would prefer to teach are reluctantly leaving their chosen calling, forced by the hard necessities of their very existence.

The teachers ask no largess at the hands of fortune. They enter their profession for service, not riches. But they invest years and money in preparation for their life work, and the knowledge they gain is shared with others who themselves use it to their own profit. Teachers, then, by every right and in all justice expect a return that will permit them and their dependents to live decently and in comfort.

In every community reached by THE LITERARY DIGEST there are readers of foresight, of vision, broad-minded men and thoughtful women who will see—nay, perhaps have long since seen—the critical and compelling importance of this problem. We are directing this appeal to them. We urge them to compare the salaries of their teachers with the wages of those who are doing work of equal value. There will be a challenge in the facts that will stir the community to action.

Let each community invest in schools so that it may thereby invest in a trained manhood and womanhood that can play their part in the great period of rebuilding and reconstruction that lies before us. Let each community set for its goal, as far as is practicable, a minimum wage of at least $1,000 a year for the teachers of America. This would cost the nation perhaps as much as we spent so gloriously in but one week of the Great War.

We are not pleading merely for the welfare of some single profession; we are not pleading for a special class; we are pleading for America; for her larger, her brighter, her richer future, for the fulfillment of her glorious promise. We are pleading for a coming race of men and women who shall be qualified to make complete the work of our forefathers who founded this nation and dedicated it to liberty, and who will bring to full fruition the new victories that we have won in freedom's cause. We are pleading for a wider teaching of the principles, the purposes, and the ideals of this nation that all men shall know her meaning and shall have equal access to her opportunities; that the light of Americanism shall so shine that it shall flood every home, every heart, in our great land

Since This Appeal Was Printed in the New York Papers, May 5th

GOVERNOR SMITH has signed the bill generously increasing the pay of the school teachers of New York State and in doing so wrote, "Neglect the school-house and you provide a fertile field for the spread of the doctrines of the discontented, who, without a proper understanding of the benefits and blessings of our free country, cry out from the street corners of our important cities for the downfall of our state and the dissolution of our union."

"I believe a man should be proud of the city in which he lives; and that he should so live that his city will be proud he lives in it."

—Abraham Lincoln.

"A good citizen is one who observes all national, state and municipal laws, and is willing to assist in their enforcement. He is honest and fearless. He is loyal to his home and friends and country. He does what he can to assist in promoting the moral, commercial, intellectual and physical welfare of the people of his country."

—Judge E. H. Gary of the U. S. Steel Corporation.

"A man who does not live for himself alone, one who is concerned in the welfare of his fellow; who will, if necessary, make sacrifices to rectify wrongs, to eliminate evils, and make every effort for the common uplift; who will endeavor by every means within his power to see to it that these principles shall find expression in the laws and in the administration of the affairs of the government of his city, and his state, and his country. This is a good citizen."

WILL GIVE YOU

An Opportunity for Advance CITY PLANNING-

"A good citizen is a man who constantly and conscientiously accommodates his conduct and his business to the rights of others and to the interest of the community."

—Woodrow Wilson.

It is as necessary to plan for a city as it is for a business.

Your property is in Newark -- You maintain yourself and family here. Therefore, your prosperity is largely dependent on Newark's welfare.

An Enlarged Chamber of Commerce will give you an opportunity for

A GREATER -- BIGGER -- BETTER NEWARK

CONFIDENCE IN LEADERSHIP and RESPONSIBILITY of CITIZENSHIP is the basis and the only basis upon which a city can be built.

"IT IS THE SPIRIT THAT QUICKENETH", said the greatest of all leaders of men. It is as essentially true to-day as it was when HE made it. It is applicable right here in Newark.

John Purroy Mitchell, while Mayor of the City of New York, said:

"If a city is to retain its commercial supremacy, and increase along its various lines of industrial, financial and commercial activity, its interests must be guarded by an alert, aggressive and public-spirited organization. It is clear that such an organization must have a membership that represents the entire city and all its manifold interests, and sufficiently large to speak for the city."

DO YOUR PART

"If Newark is good enough to live in--It's good enough to work for"

"The community at its best must be the goal."

CALLS COVENANT

grace have been raised to high position. This perverting process has been one of the powerful agencies for preventing people from knowing the possibilities of the League of Nations.

"On the 11th of November, America, no nation on earth ever had been before, was respected, revered and loved. After six months of meddling and muddling in European and Asiatic controversies and contests over territory, the end of the peace conference finds Italy detecting us, France secretly despising us, England using us, and Japan bluffing us.

"They are all willing and anxious that we should have our League of Nations, and willing and anxious because of the same spirit which has ruled them in the peace conference. The one going solvent concern nationally is about to enter into partnership with certain national bankrupts. We give on our assets both moral and material and assume part of their liabilities.

"Gladly will we do what duty commands, and humanity and civilization may request; but that duty can be better done, our obligations to humanity and civilization better fulfilled in the respect and prestige of the world's greatest democracy than in the subordinate position of the least consequential of a quinquennial alliance."

Recalling in detail the abuses which followed the holy alliance, the California senator said it was organized for the same devious purpose and in the same "ethereal and celestial language" as the league now proposed. He quoted Article X of the league covenant in which member nations undertake to respect and preserve as inviolable their territorial integrity and their subject peoples.

"The League of Nations comes to us after its principal members have been gorged with territory with their boundless and their wildest dreams. The one going solvent nation certain on earth undertakes by Article X to guarantee forever these extraordinary territory territorial limits. This League of Nations, with the men who really wrote it, was meant to obtain peace only in the sense that peace maintained forever inviolate their territories and their subject peoples."

"If an American with the purpose in view of protecting the Monroe doctrine wrote this article, his affection for it was tepid, and his allegiance feeble. It could not have been written with any other purpose than the destruction of the Monroe doctrine."

The blindest page in all our history was written when our name was signed to the treaty delivering Shantung to Japan.
